ty City Auditor Stevens is spending all his time attempting to simplify the method.

When Frank Matthews attempted to sell his hay, Thomas Hobday, superintendent of waterworks, refused to buy it. Jake Raleigh street supervisor, refused to feed it to his horses and it was sold for about $700, a pure loss to the city of nearly $1,000. The receipts from the farm amounted to only a few dollars compared with the amount spent on the city's property.

A FEW SIDE ISSUES.

A FEW SIDE ISSUES.

Another source of extravagance is the purchasing of gravel at 25 cents a load. Jake Raleigh, the street superintendent, and his partner, William Harmon, have sold the city $2,660 worth of gravel so far this year. P. J. Moran, the official contractor, also sells gravel to the city which he would be glad to get rid of for nothing.

The city crematory is another expensive place. The furnacemen and employes out there received a salary of $2,160. When Councilman Fernstrom was out there a few days ago, he found was out there a few days ago, he found that one man was in charge of the works, and that the other two were skinning dead animals and selling hides for their own profit. The crematory is operated about six hours a day when it is supposed to be kept in operation for eight hours a day.

PARTY ORGAN'S PICKINGS.

In the matter of advertising, it will cost Salt Lake this year about $24,500. The prevailing price which the "American" party organ charges is 60 cents an inch but a great deal of the advertising costs $1 an inch.

J. B. Moreton, city recorder, refuses to ask for bids whereby he could cut this amount in two, saving the city about $12,000 a year.

The advertising deal which the county commissioners put through a year ago on the publishing of the de-inquent tax list cost 58 cents an inch.

But this price is not exorbitant compared to what the city pays for its

AUTOMOBILES FOR MEN.

Louis C. Kelsey, who was city engineer until recently, started another line of extravagance this year when the city purchased him an automobile. The machine has cost the city about 395 a month to entertain Kelsey and his family and friends. A movement is now on foot to buy more machines next year if the "Americans" are successful in this campaign.

The city is now paying for about 10 horses and carriages for officials. The humane officer for instance makes about one trip a week in his horse and buggy for the city. The rest of the time he uses his rig in attending to his private

A golden river of taxes, licenses and revenues, amounting to $1.180,881 has disappeared again this year in the quicksands of municipal extravahas despired in its channel a deficit of $116,000. It is scant satisfaction to the taxpayers, who find taxes a burden again this year, to be told that all this money has been expended and that the city will have to go withall this money control of this deficit which is swelling each year with "American" party rule, without recourse to bonds, the "American" administration would have been crushed this year by its own extravagance. On account of the debeen crushed the de-plorable mismanagement of funds, a bond issue was necessary to stave off the cash that was rapidly overtaking the administration. The $600,000 bods for which a number of fradulent votes were cast, gave the "Ameriran officials a breathing spell allowing them to apply this money where it was necessary, even if it was designated as water and sewer bonds.

Never before has an administration | counts in the auditor's office. The lihad as much money at its disposal and never before has such a deficit been crested. The taxes this year amounted to $650,000, an increase of $54,000 over last year. The licenses and departmental receipits will reach $386,-685.62 for the year, an increase of $88,000 over last year. The water rates will amount to $125,000 this year which is an increase of $29,000 with this amount of money available, the board of estimate and apportionment set to work to satisfy the greedy liticans. They based the expenses on the previous year. The budget of 1908 allowed $761,492,27 for departmental expenditures. At the end of that year the funds showed a deficit. With the experience of former years in the mind, the members of the board trimmed the budget down for the de-pertment to $758,827.50, a modest in-ent fund, something went decidedsingent fund, something went decidedly wrong. The city's financies became so involved that the surplus of $170,-600 in funds, had disappeared. The board met in July to adjust matters by things could not be easily adjusted. When the board finished its work it had added $37,000 to the departmental expenditures making a total of $15,01,50, or an increase of $43,-555,21 over the expenses in the departments of a year ago.

pariments of a year ago. RAISING THE ESTIMATES.

In the first place, Jake Raleigh, street superimendant, wanted an increase in his salary. He asked for $112,350 on which to operate his department, which is about $18,000 less than it cost a year ago. Jake succeeded in getting his lary raised but in July it was found board that about two-this his money had been spent in the first ave months. It was necessary to slow the street department $19,000 more, which brings the total to more The same thing occurred in the po-e department. About $10,000 was add el to the budget for salaries. In the other departments all the way from 100 to $500 had to be added to carry them through the year Now it is apparent that something se has gone wrong with the city's funces. The last report of the city feasurer showed that the deficit amounted to $116,000.

NEEDED FOR INTEREST.

The city had to meet interest or hads last July, which amounted to $15,000. In order to meet this and car-ly on the city's government and public approvements the bond issue of $500,000 as necessary. It was raised under the bretext that it was needed to build swers and water mains, but instead it gave the administration an opportunity a pay bond interest and the increase in

The sum of the extravagances of the present administration in the departmental expenditures will be a matter of speculation until the end of the year. With a deficit of $116.000 now in the funds the administration has two more funds, the administration has two more locates to go. It is costing on an everage now of $66,000 a month to run the

SOUTHERN PACIFIC ABANDONS HAZEN ROUTE

NEEDED TO ANSWER KICKS.

In the street department, an extra cierk was employed and ulso an extra poll tax collector to answer complaints mostly. Raleigh increased the pay of his teamsters 50 cents a day and also his sprinkling cart drivers. The health department appointed a number of additional inspectors and assistants and their salaries were raised among the others. The city engineer followed suit and so did the waterworks department to say nothing of the other departments. The pay rolls show an increase of 35 clerks and assistants in the departments for this year. The "American" administration pays out in salaries this year approximately $385,000 which is more than half of the amount received directly from taxes and nearly one-third of the total revenues received for the entire year.

FARM RUN AT A LOSS. Reno, Nevada, Oct. 25.—It is stated that the Southern Pacific in its search or a short line to Los Angeles has virtually abandened consideration of Hazen as an objective point for the cutoff. Recent developments have brought to light the presence of three large and well appointed corps of Southern Pacific surveyors who occupy the field in central Nevada. These engineers are running lines for a new outlet of the aqueduct line via either Winnemucca, Battle Mountain of Palisade. The latter point is not regarded with special favor owing to the broken character of the country, which would render construction expensive.

Mr. Taft said he opposed any such gold bond issue as that of $500,000,000, or a billion dollars for waterways improvement, the money to be cut up and parcelled out to different sections. His idea of a bond issue is to secure sufficient money to carry out quickly such projects as may be approved after careful investigation and which can prove their benefit to the entire country.

President Taft received a telegram from Mrs. Peckham today announcing the death of her husband, Justice Peckham, of the supreme court and he sent a message of condolence in reply. Mr. Taft has given no thought to a successor.

AT THE COLISEUM.

The president was introduced at the coliseum by Gov. Hadley. His voice was very husky, but with the close attention given to him by the great audience, he managed to make himself heard throughout the structure.

The president found a quick response from his audience when he began by saving:

saying:

"We are on the eve of a great journey down the Mississippi river, and cursed be he who calls it a junket. The journey, as Gov. Hadley has said, has reference to the problem of transportation and railways and waterways. It is however, only a part of a still greater movement inaugurated by Theodore Roosevelt and properly called by him conservation of our national resources."

The president went into a brief dis cussion of the subject of conservation and said the people of the Mississippi and sain the people of the alassamphy valley were particularly interested in the improvement of inland waterways and preservation of forests as a means of putting an end to the floods which were carrying away so many farms in Missouri, Iowa and other states down to the delta of the Mississimi

The president said the government of the United States had been exceed ingly generous in parting with its lands in the past and the time had come for the adoption of a new policy that regard.

He spoke of the necessity for new legislation regarding water lower sites to prevent monopolies from gaining there was no denying the fact that the improvement of water ways had been carried forward in a haphazard fashion and that a new method should

They are not to be adopted for sending certain congressmen back to Congress or for making certain parts of the country profitable during the expenditure of profitable during the expenditure of the money. We should take up every comprehensive project on its merita and determine whether the country where the project is to be carried out has so far developed as to justify the enormous expenditure of money au-if it will be useful when done.
